I wish to thank you all for your patronage in the past and kindly ask for a continuance in the future. You will notice we have added several items through our catalog, which we have never listed before. This will no doubt help you in your plans for your planting. We aim to grow a supply of stock which most people are interested in and which is the most satisfactory to plant. We have an instruction booklet which we are giving free to all customers who place an order with us and asks for it.
